Mussolini Insists that Italy is no Minor State

Prof. Long at Philosophical Society Discusses Fascism.—Government Faced with Political, Economic and Foreign Problems.—Dare Not Provoke War

At the second Members' Meeting of the Philosophical Society held on November 28, Assistant Professor Long gave a most interesting and instructive address on Fascism. There were a large number of members present and everyone listened with marked interest to Prof. Long's most enlightening paper.

In opening his address the speaker pointed out that in order to understand the birth and character of Fascism it was necessary to understand certain characteristics of Italian political life. Nationalism has been a most profound force, especially since 1870, when Italy was established as a nation state. There also exists in Italy an ingrained particularism which divides North against South and this coupled with the dual loyalty of the Italians to the Church and to the State, has made the political unification of Italy a most difficult problem. Another difficulty is met in the excessive population of Italy. The numbers are rapidly increasing and this increase is met chiefly by immigration, which in turn has encouraged an imperialistic policy, finding impression today in Fascism. The Italians are also faced with the agrarian problem, especially in the South, which forms a fertile field for the spread of socialism. The exercise of popular control through representative institutions has not been used and this causes direct violent action and as a result the force and efficiency of the government has been greatly reduced. In summing up these problems the speaker remarked that they were such as would have probably led to a movement like Fascism, sooner or later.

Italy's entrance into the war was

COMMERCE CLUB HOLD EXCURSION

Visit to the North West Biscuit Factory "Satisfying" in Every Way

Following out the practice which our modern commerce club has inaugurated of either visiting some manufacturing concern or of having some prominent business man talk at their luncheons in an effort to link up the theory of business as studied here with the actual practice of the business world, the University Commerce Club last Thursday afternoon visited the North West Biscuit Company's plant and listened to a practical and instructive address by Harry Shaw, manager of the business.

The club then made a complete inspection of the plant and admitted to being greatly impressed by the speed, accuracy and cleanliness of the establishment. B. Stevens, on behalf of the students, expressed the thanks of the club, and Mr. Race, the Hon. Pres. for the faculty, conveyed to Mr. Shaw their appreciation of his assistance in showing them the plant and explaining methods used.

W. R. Bottom, of Revillon Wholesale, addressed the club at the regular luncheon on Monday on the subject of "The Credit Man and His Work." The luncheon was well attended and much practical information on this most important subject was made available to the students.

Mr. Bottom is conceded to be one of the best authorities on credit systems in Western Canada. He is director of the head office of the Canadian Credit Men's Association.

Although the time was very limited, Mr. Bottom handled the subject in a very masterly fashion. He dealt with credits from all points of view. After a few brief experiences of his own, he proceeded to outline the relation of credit to modern business. He then discussed the details of a credit man's work—his qualifications and relations to other parts of the business. The laws governing credit and collections, and the co-operation of the sales force with the credit department were taken up.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL MEETING NOV. 20

A meeting of the Students' Council was held on Nov. 20th. The question of the Year Book was the first to come up. The recommendation of the Year Executive that the Union fees be increased to provide for the putting out of a year book was read. It was, however, decided to table this question for the present in order to facilitate this session's edition of the Year Book.

The following motion was then passed:

"That the council go on record as accepting entire financial responsibility for the Year Book and that the Council appoint an editor and business manager, which officials shall be responsible to the Students' Council. They shall present to the Council their estimates for approval before entering into any contracts."

Mr. D. A. McCannell was then appointed as editor of the Year Book for 1923-24.

Mr. Owen then presented a financial statement.

LET'S WIN INTER-VARSITY DEBATE

Preliminaries on Saturday.—Long List of Entries.—Live Subject

Great excitement has stirred the debating world during the past couple of weeks and reached its climax on Monday when it was announced that the subject for the Inter-Varsity debate this year will be the compulsory arbitration of labor disputes. The annual debates with the Universities of Saskatchewan and Manitoba are among the best events of the year and the enthusiasm this year promises to be greater than ever. Thanks to the splendid work of Mr. McGoun, the honorary president of the Debating Society and of H. D. McKay, the president, along with the other members of the executive, the meetings have been made more than usually profitable and an extraordinary interest has been aroused in all the activities of the Society.

Not content with success in our local sphere the executive are putting forth every effort to bring home the honors in the Triangular Debate which will take place next February. Their zeal has brought forth a larger number of entries for the preliminaries, which are to be held on Saturday, than ever before. All those who are trying out seem to have caught a spark of enthusiasm from the executive and everything points to a championship this year.

The judges for the preliminary on Saturday afternoon will be Mr. McGoun, Dr. Hardy and Professor Burt. The candidates, from whom four will be selected, to date, are as follows: Helen Boyle, C. E. Ruddy, R. Klinck, J. Morrison, L. S. Turcotte, J. O'Brien, H. Baltzan, J. Mahaffy, C. Campbell, G. Bryan and J. Cassels.

Other entries are expected and all will be welcomed.

WHO WILL PUT ON UNDERGRAD DANCE?

Arts Faculty, Next in Line, Has No Organization

On Wednesday last the Arts faculty held a meeting to decide as to whether or not they would undertake to put on the coming Undergrad Dance.

In the past it has been the custom that the responsibility for this dance be assumed by the different faculty organizations in turn. So last year Law undertook the task, this year Arts were to assume it, while the faculty whose turn comes next is Science. At the same time the Committee on Student Affairs does not approve of this function being handled by any sub-faculty under their own name.

The number of Arts students at this meeting was so woefully small that it was deemed inadvisable for the Arts faculty to undertake the task. However, in view of the fact that Commerce, a division of the Arts faculty that was organized, had expressed a desire to put on this dance, it was thought inadvisable to surrender the undertaking to Science right away. Instead, the meeting was of the opinion that the Commerce Club should be given the opportunity of considering the matter at their next meeting and that if they thought the undertaking a feasible one for them, they should be allowed to handle it, supplementing their own committee if they so desired with members from other divisions of the Arts faculty. In this way, though Commerce would manage the dance, the affair could be rightfully put on under the name of the Arts faculty.

Miss Bradford, vice-president of the Union, who presided in the absence of Mr. McAllister, promised to take these suggestions before the Committee of Student Affairs, who she promised, would endeavor to act in accordance with them.

Two Lively Sessions of The Student Parliament

Three Parties.—Several Ladies.—Speeches in French.—Keen Debate on All Measures Illuminated by Bursts of Eloquence and Sallies of Wit

On Monday, November 26, at 8 p.m., the Students' Parliament held its first session with all due pomp and ceremony. From the time when J. W. O'Brien, the Sergeant-at-Arms, cried, "Order! Order! His Excellency the Governor-General," till the adjournment, the session was conducted in a very impressive manner, the discussion being lively and logical.

Mr. Long acted as Governor-General, while Mr. Klevin assumed office as speaker. Shirley G. MacDonald was clerk of the House. The Governor-General in the Speech from the Throne, said that his tour of Canada since his last appearance before the House had helped him greatly to realize the difficulties of the various problems of the Dominion. Unemployment is fortunately not as great a burden in Canada as in the older countries; a bumper crop has just been harvested, and improved conditions of marketing exist, all of these factors contributing to the encouraging outlook for the future. The question of immigration and the accomplishments of the Imperial Conference were also mentioned.

Mr. Kirby moved the acceptance of the Speech from the Throne, and was seconded by Mr. Henderson. Both of these speakers made very eloquent addresses in which tribute was paid to Lord Byng and to the sacrifices of his soldiers in France.

The Premier, Clarence Campbell, then outlined the policy of the Government and in a forcible manner upheld the Liberal platform. After complimenting the women members for their large turn-out, he spoke of the expediency of a revision of the customs tariff with the view of bringing about better trade relations with the mother country and sister dominions. Other questions dealt with in the speech were banking, merchant marine, unemployment, natural resources, the western wheat route and the railway rate for western coal.

Mr. Ramsay, leader of the Opposition, then attacked the policy of the government. Although at the present time they are out of power, Mr. Ramsay predicted that the time would come when the Conservative party would once more enjoy the full confidence of the people and that at such a time Canada would benefit immeasurably. He said that the Imperial Conference was failing to perform its real duty since it succeeded in doing nothing more than promote good will.

Miss Boyle, the Attorney-General, upheld the Government's policy regarding the railroads in a French speech which was admirably delivered. Speeches in French are to be encouraged and it is hoped that in the future members will take advantage of this feature. Others who spoke were Messrs. Anderson, Bryan, Mitchell, Klinck, Bloor, McAllister and McCormack. The last mentioned, Independent, created no little mirth by asking Mr. Klinck, Minister

MEETING OF COM. STUDENTS' AFFAIRS

Important Decisions Reached Re Dances and Status of Nurses in Training

A meeting of the Committee on Students' Affairs was held in the Senate Chamber on Wednesday, November 21-23, and the following business was dealt with:

Judgments of the Students' Court were ratified, this being the usual procedure. In connection with the case before the court relating to theatre night regret was expressed that though others were guilty one man was allowed to take the whole punishment.

The President reported that the Board of Governors agreed to the President of the Students' Union being an ex officio member of the House Committee.

The following student members of the Committee were introduced: J. A. McAllister, H. G. Teskey, Wilfred Wees, Agnes McLeod, John Cassels, Marjorie Bradford, Olive Caldwell, F. Barclay.

Undergraduate Dance
According to the regulations governing undergraduate dances, the function this year should be under the Faculty of Arts, but no organization existed in this faculty which could take charge. It was decided that the President of the Students' Union should call a meeting of the Faculty of Arts to ascertain whether they wished to take charge of the function this year. If so, an organization was to be arranged. If not, the privilege of carrying on this function was to be passed on to the Faculty of Applied Science. It was unanimously decided that the closing hour of the dance should be one o'clock.

The Committee concurred in the judgment of the Students' Council not to hold a conversat this year.

The committee to supervise admission of non-university persons to the Junior Reception and Undergraduate dance is as follows: Misses Bradford, McLeod and Mr. McClung.

bitterly opposed by the Catholic Party and the Socialists, the latter leaning toward Germany and Austria. Then in the post-war situation the Communists found a favorable field, through the discontent caused by hard times and the disinclination of the laboring classes to work. The movement to shake off the capitalist government made alarming headway, a reign of terror ensued and there were violent demonstrations.

SHAKESPEARE DAY WITH THE DRAMAT

Mr. A. Harvey to Sing.—Papers by Dr. Broadus and Dr. Gordon

On Monday, Dec. 10th, the Dramatic Society will hold one of the most important meetings of the year. A special programme has been arranged in commemoration of the Shakespearean First Folio Tercentenary and everyone who is interested is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to get a glimpse of the great master and his times.

Four papers have been arranged, which promise to be both entertaining and instructive. Dr. E. K. Broadus will speak on the subject "With Manington at Twelfth Night," Dr. R. K. Gordon on "English Literature without Shakespeare," Mr. Salter on "Shakespeare and the Art of Composition," and Miss B. Villy on "Shakespeare's Songs."

Besides these, a specially attractive feature will be the reading of a group of his songs by Mr. Allan Harvey. Some of these lyrics will be sung to the original airs, while others will be to the modern tunes. All who can attend are assured of a rare treat in store.

APPROACH BIBLE AS TRUTH-SEEKER

Dr. A. D. Miller at Sunday Service.—Use Historical Method in Bible Study

The speaker at Convocation Hall on Sunday, Dec. 2, was Professor A. D. Miller, of Alberta College. He spoke of the attitude and method that should be adopted in studying the Bible. The great and fundamental truths that are found there, he said, may be made the foundation of our lives if we will search for them, and adopt them. The attitude of the student towards the Bible should be that of the truth-seeker. He should approach the Bible, not to find what he wants or expects, but what is actually there. The facts on both sides of any question should be carefully considered, to find out what attitude he should adopt in regard to it. Thus, if all the facts are not considered, the first chapter of Genesis may be taken as supporting the doctrine of evolution, which is plainly contrary to the intended meaning. If we steadfastly follow this method of truth-seeking we will finally come to something that will lead to a larger life and greater moral strength.

The speaker went on to say that might be called the historical literary method used should be what any method. He must know something about the time in which the various parts of the Bible were written, as is it only when this is known that we can follow and appreciate the growth of man's moral nature. We should also know something of the background on which the Bible was written. If the times, or the condition of civilization is known, then there can only be one meaning to the words of any particular verse. Many sects have grown up from a purely arbitrary interpretation of parts of the Bible, without reference to the time at which that part was written. We should also remember that we find many types of literature in the Bible, and hence we cannot take a verse out of its setting, and keep the original meaning. The Bible becomes a living thing when studied properly, and is one of the greatest blessings to one who will diligently study it.

High Prizes Won by Albertans in Competition with the World Dued in a Large Measure to Scientific Organization

Perhaps nothing could be more timely in the economic interest of the Province of Alberta than the winnings of the last few days at the International Exposition at Chicago. It not only proves to the world that our province is a producer of the best in field crops, but it also goes to show that we have in this province what is actually the best organization in the world for the growing and distribution of good crops, and in this case it might not be out of place to point out that good seed has been the foundation of all agricultural progress throughout the history of the race. The great number of high prizes won by Albertans is not any haphazard result. It is not alone due to the climate and geography of Alberta. It is due to a very large measure to the organization that began in a modest way several years ago when the University of Alberta began to establish co-operation with individual farmers throughout the province. This Crop Improvement Association, as it is now known, consists of over 2,500 farmers co-operating with the University in experimental work, and over 200 farmers multiplying good seed for sale. Moreover, a lot of this seed is sold in Alberta, and the improvement is thus accumulative. The collecting, cleaning, and marketing of this seed is handled by the Department of Agriculture, and last year they marketed 16,500 bu. of registered seed. The point that is not generally recognized is that these winnings are the direct result of scientific foundation, and a properly organized co-operation on the part of the farmers and government institutions. The Dominion Government inspects the grain in field and bin; the Provincial Department of Agriculture has in hand the important work of marketing, while the University assumes all that is embraced in the matter of plant breeding and the production of elite stock seed for distribution among the members of the Association. In the immense show rooms of the International is to be seen the beautiful display prepared by the Department of Agriculture and the University, in which is depicted, step by step, the production of this registered seed from the plant breeding plots till the time when the product is cleaned, sacked, and sealed for sale.

JUNIOR PROM IN OLD JAPAN

Students' Dance in Land of the Cherry Blossom.—Highly Successful Function

The Junior Reception will long be remembered as a milestone in the history of Class '25.

On Friday evening one beheld in Athabasca Hall the essence of Shalimar. Every detail carried out the beauty of an oriental night—pale cherry blossoms, lovely wisteria, and gay Japanese lanterns—the most original feature of the decorations being the representation of a snow-capped mountain at the foot of which the orchestra played in a bower of oriental bloom, and lanterns.

The guests, numbering about five hundred, were received by the patronesses, Mrs. H. M. Tory, Mrs. E. A. Howes, Mrs. W. A. R. Kerr, Mrs. Edouard Sonet, and Miss F. E. Dodd.

The executive of the Junior year are to be congratulated on the success of this, their feature event of the year, and much credit is due Viola Rae, Alice Joyce and E. Wilson for their work on the decorations, and Jean Folkins and D. Hansen, the musical committee, and Miss Silverthorn, G. Haworth and J. Claxton in charge of table decorations.

STAGE IS SET FOR INTER-YEAR PLAYS

Keen Competition and Eager Anticipation Augur the Usual Success

Tickets are now on sale for the Year Play, and dramatic feeling is running high. Judging from previous years, students and their friends are anticipating great things for Friday night. Cheer leaders for the various classes are being selected, and everybody is being urged to turn out and support the year.

The Inter-Year Play Competition was organized in 1921, a shield for the winning class being presented by three former presidents of the Dramatic Society. In the first year of the competition, the play gaining the approval of the judges was "The Bishop's candlesticks," produced by Class '24—at that time the Freshman class. In both the other years Class '23 carried off the honours—in '22 with "Barrie's The Well Remembered Voice" and last year with "The Old Lady Chews Her Medals."

Friday's performance is expected to be of the usual good quality, as the directors and students are working almost night and day to insure success.

The plays chosen for this year are:

Class '27—The Florist's Shop.
Class '26—Wurzel Flummery.
Class '25—From their Own Place.
Class '24—Punch and Go.

YEAR BOOK TO BE FINER THAN EVER

McCannell Editor.—Excellent Staff Selected.—Work Commenced Already

Plans are now under consideration for the 1923-24 Year Book, the staff is selected, and the work proceeding apace. With Don McCannell as editor-in-chief, the Varsity annual should be a huge success. Competent associate editors have been chosen in the persons of Marjorie Bradford, George Salt and Jimmie Cairns. Percy Davies will look after the business end of it, and Ernie Wilson the advertising. Charlie Richert, as circulation manager, hopes to impress every student with the absolute necessity of obtaining a copy of the Ever-green and Gold.

It is planned to have the Year Book ready for distribution much earlier than in previous years, to avoid the necessity of mailing to those students who leave early. Teams and clubs are advised to plan for their photos in good time to avoid being missed in the last minute rush. Anyone who has a photo, either of Varsity life during the term, or of Varsity students during the summer, should plan to let others enjoy it too.

When a canvasser approaches you in a few days, subscribe willingly; if you are not asked, chase up someone who is handing out the receipts and pay your deposit. Remember that in ten years you won't part with your Year Book for ten times what you pay for it now. Remember it is a book of you, and for you, and should be in the possession of every one of you.

EVERGREEN AND GOLD

The members of the different year executives and of the executives of all clubs and societies are asked to have their photos taken at McDermid's before Dec. 15th.

A REQUEST

The editors regret the necessity of calling to the attention of the student public that Room 151, Arts, is a private office, not a public lounge room, nor a lumber room in which to deposit boxes, parcels, books, etc. This office is designed for the convenience of The Gateway staff who are doing your work, and the least you can do is to co-operate with them in keeping the place tidy and fit for use. We may also mention that although we are anxious to make the office available for committee meetings of other clubs, it is very inconvenient on days when the staff are busy to find it occupied. Therefore we would suggest that anyone wishing to use the office might ask the permission of one of the editors. With a little consideration and co-operation there need be no further friction.

CONGRATULATIONS

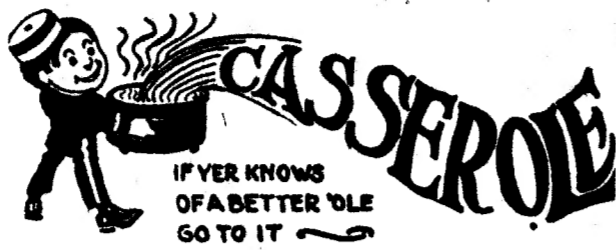

The Gateway takes great pleasure in congratulating Dean Howes and Prof. Cutler upon the results which their efforts have brought at the Chicago International Grain Exhibition. The work which they began years ago in a small way and which they have gradually extended has at all times been unostentatious and seldom been given the credit which it deserves. There is surely no better way of developing our resources than through the improvement of the science of agriculture towards which the University has made the greatest contribution, and here we have a striking instance of the direct economic benefit which the province derives from researches made in our laboratories and fields.

THANK YOU

The regular staff of the Gateway wish to express their appreciation, and that of their readers to Mark Levey and Miss Marjorie Bradford, and those who helped with their contributions in making the last issue one of the most interesting numbers published this term. The excellent articles by members of the Faculty and others are especially deserving of recognition, and we appreciate them all the more as we realize how busy most of these gentlemen are with their own work. We are fortunate in having on the faculty a number of men whose opinions in the musical world carry particular weight, and their willingness to place their services at the disposal of the student body through the medium of The Gateway is very gratifying.

EXCHANGE LECTURES

The recent lecture given by Professor Wallace, of the University of Manitoba, under the exchange arrangement of the western universities, seems to The Gateway to have approached nearer to what a lecture of that sort should be, than any yet given. The success of the lecture, the title of which was, "Ourselves and the Universe," was due in part to the fact that the professor brought the subject to his audience dressed in a wealth of illustration and humor, with the result that his remarks were followed with the closest attention throughout the whole address. Then, too, Dr. Wallace went right to the heart of his subject, and, despite the vastness of the theme, presented it in such a way that the students present gained for it a new understanding and appreciation. And that after all should be the aim of these lectures, if they are to be of service, and to accomplish anything more than the social exchange of good fellowship between the universities. The fact may as well be admitted that large student audiences must be appealed to in a special way, and it requires a conscious effort to present a lecture of this type in a way that it will be listened to by these audiences, at the same time conveying something of real worth to them. Unless this can be accomplished, the lecture has failed, in our opinion, to justify the expense and trouble of the visit. In these things, however, Professor Wallace was eminently successful, and his address was of real value to every student present.

Sturrock and Saucier are going on the stage. They have not decided on the route to be traversed, as yet, possibly the Leduc, St. Albert road. It is understood that Sturrock will handle the "horses" while Saucier will look after the "fairs".

THE OUTLOOK

THE BRITISH ELECTIONS

By Hilda Hobbs

Britain is at present in the seething stages of an election campaign which will terminate with the elections of next Thursday, December 6. There are 615 seats to be polled for and at present over 1,400 candidates have been nominated. The cost of the election to the country is enormous and it is estimated that it will be at least $5,000,000.

The great question of the day is the tariff problem proposed by the government headed by Mr. Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin's real goal is protection with preference as a secondary consideration. He wishes to secure protection of the British home market for the manufacturer, the workman of the city and the agricultural laborer. If the government is victorious it is expected that a low tariff will be applied in most cases. The practice of protection is, however, against that ingrained feeling of the Britisher which is distinctly free trade.

The Liberal attitude was set forth in a manifesto of Nov. 19 which was signed by both Lloyd George and Asquith. It condemns the government for its actions and enumerates a general program of internal reform. The two wings of the party have elected for election purposes. The Liberals accuse the government of choosing a poor time to upset trading once more just when it is improving. They hold that if foreign affairs and the peace of Europe are attended to, trade will adjust itself. Liberals seem to have taken foreign affairs as their province, though previously this was a Conservative argument.

The most powerful among the sectional interests is the liquor trade which is well organized. Indeed it has been said that it is the best organized non-political body in Britain.

What is the feeling in Canada over these questions? The preferential tariff concerns her more than any other question and she is in favor of Empire preferential trade when practicable. If the government carries the Canadian manufacturers are in hopes that they will secure better terms than the foreigner, but they do not expect to be placed on a level with British competitors in United Kingdom markets. The policy of Mr. Baldwin really involves the placing of a tax upon goods which have hitherto entered Britain free. It also proposes the bonusing of the British farmer. Empire preference will place Canada in a better position than the foreigner but in a worse position than hitherto occupied.

The question of Reciprocity between Canada and the United States has also been discussed.

Britain is now a country seething with excitement and the next few days will see energetic action of all parties, the results of which will be shown at the polls on Dec. 6.

MUSCOLINI INSISTS THAT ITALY IS NO MINOR STATE

onstrations in favor of socialism and in opposition to the government and existing social order.

But a reaction set in and the national spirit began to assert itself under the leadership of Benito Mussolini, who although originally a Marxian socialist, now turned against them. He was one of the chief agents in bringing Italy into the war. The inaction of the government following the war convinced him that the only way to save Italy was by violence. Thus Fascism is the natural spontaneous reaction to a suicidal socialism. By March 1919 the society had become organized under the name of Fascio de Combattimento and the famous Black Shirts came into existence. Their policy was one of direct retaliation to the violence of the Socialists and by August 1922 they were victorious. As a result of this victory Mussolini was able to march on Rome and in a bloodless revolution seize control of the government. He allowed parliament to continue but only after he had exacted full dictatorial rights.

Before closing his address Mr. Long outlined some of the ideals with which the Fascists have met political problems, some of the measures they have adopted and the success they have attained. Mussolini does not deny that Fascism is illiberal, but also insists that it is not necessarily bad. What Italy needs is a strong and well organized government. This period of dictatorship will have done its share if it succeeds in restoring order permanently in Italy. What the verdict of time will be cannot be said, but it can be judged from the success of the government so far.

The Fascists are going about making good Italian citizens. They are trying to enforce the use of the franchise and at the same time have undertaken a radical reform in the educational system. In economic reforms they have proved themselves much more enlightened than their predecessors. It is in foreign policy that Fascism is most dangerous abroad for their policy seems to be developing into one of imperial aggressiveness and a declared opposition to Britain. Nevertheless relations so far have been on a whole friendly. Fascism is the embodiment of a national resolve that Italy must not be treated as a minor state and Mussolini must do everything short of war to gratify it.

Prof. Long closed his address by raising the query as to how long Fascism would last. He said that although the movement was gaining less popular, Mussolini himself remained as popular as ever and the probability is that he will retain power for some time.

VLADIMIR ROSING

RENOWNED RUSSIAN SONG INTERPRETER

Europe and the East claim Rosing who will not return to Western Canada next season.

"Rosing, like Chaliapin, is a master of poignant appeal." (Hector Charlesworth, Toronto Saturday Night, Sept. 1923).

"For Tchaikovsky Mr. Rosing is a revealer of things unknown to us." (Manchester Guardian, 1921).

"Rosing is one of the finest operatic artists of the day." (Ernest Newman, 1921).

"Again out of Russia comes the 'new singing.' An unusual, an engrossing singer. Usually, Mr. Rosing prefers to make his song an insistently expressive art. Yet always he sang with keen sense of vocal design and from Jan. 1922).

"He is to be ranked with the other great Russians who have sung in New York this season—with Chaliapin, the basso, and the baritone of the Chicago Opera Co., Schwartz, full and ready vocal skill. (H. T. Parker, Boston Transcript, 1922). He is a great artist. (Deems Taylor, N. Y. World, 1922).

"Rosing is a sensation, and soon will be a universal sensation." (Herman Devries, Chicago 'American', 1922).

Miss B. Russell, who is attending the Calgary Normal, was a guest of the "Eight Elite" over the week end.

The Varsity Ladies Basketball team entertained the Victoria Grads in Pembina on Saturday evening. Mrs. Wyatt presided and assisting her were Miss Ethel Cobb, Miss Alta Russell and Miss Mary Reid. During the evening musical selections were beautifully rendered by Miss Grace Studholme.

Miss Eva Foeter, of Calgary, was the guest of Miss Margaret Cooper over the week-end.

Skating promises to be a popular winter sport this year. A number of the bravest from residence have already risked their lives. Casualties so far only number Jean and Bobby.

Among the week-end Pembina guests we were glad to see a number of Varsity graduates: Misses Lois Black, Irene Frazer, and Bernice Carmichael.

Senior Basket Ball Squad Gets Down to Business

Strenuous Workouts Started to get Team in Shape for Championship Grind.

Under the able tutelage of Jimmie Bill, the senior Basketball squad is out to once more uphold the honor of the Green and Gold. Jimmie has been fortunate to acquire the services of Don Skauson as manager and coach of the second team. Skauson was coach of the Raymond team the year they won the championship and should prove to be a valuable acquisition.

Practices have been taking place three times a week since the initial turnout on Nov. 22, and on Saturday afternoon the squad slipped into real strenuous training.

All of last year's senior team are back with the exception of Keith Muir. These include Elie Butchart, George Parney, Jack McAllister, Hugh Teskey, Bob Stoner, Anton Bures and Baker.

A number of enthusiastic newcomers are turning out this season, prominent among whom are Clarence Husband, who hails from Moose Jaw and plays defence, and Galbraith, who learned the game at Lethbridge. Gowda is another defence man, who formerly played for the local Y. Ken Cox, a former member of the team, is back again, while Sam Savage is going good and will make some of the regulars step to hold their places.

With such a wealth of talented players Varsity entrants should repeat, and retain their proud title of Provincial champions.

VARSITY TO HAVE SENIOR TEAM

Varsity Enters Team in Senior Hockey League.—Practises Monday and Thursday

Hockey practises for the senior team will start this week at one of the north side rinks pending the few days of cold weather needed to put Jimmie Smith's ice palace in shape. Practices will be held in the South Side Rink on Monday and Thursday afternoons from five to six when the much needed cold snap finally arrives.

This will be the first attempt of Varsity for some years to place a team in the senior loop, but, from all accounts there will be no dearth of players, at least twenty-five men having expressed their willingness to turn out. Coupe, Duggan, Lessard and Poirier of last year's La Verendrye team are on hand to try out for forward positions. Star forwards of last year's inter-faculty league, in the persons of Savage, Leisner, Crawford and Lawton, will also be on hand. Other forwards of senior calibre seeking berths are Bill Powers of last year's Junior Eskimos, Houghtaling, who hails from Milestone, Saskatchewan, Thompson, Haworth, Armstrong and Smith.

Defense men are decidedly in the minority, but from all accounts they are not lacking in ability. Perkins, a husky man from Vancouver, Williams of the notorious Dents, and McVeigh of Calgary, will be among those trying out.

Four men are listed for the goal position, these being Morrison, Kelly, Bradley and MacDonald. Any others interested in the game should see MacMillan or Slippery Barclay at once.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY

The Girls' Hockey squad is hard at work and are practising three times a week in the gym. It is hoped that the rink will be ready for use this week, so as to hold practices on the ice. In the meantime, under Coach Mike Krause's supervision, the squad is training faithfully, the workouts including medicine ball and skipping exercises and shooting practise. Any players who have not yet turned out are urged to do so. Practices are held on Tuesday and Thursday at 5.30 and on Saturday at 1.30.

SKATING PARTY

The Rink Committee hopes that it may be able to open the rink next Tuesday evening, with a skating party with band in attendance. Watch the Bulletin Boards for further information.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL OFF TO GOOD START

Defeat Victoria Grads for Second Time, Winning 12-7

MEN'S RULES IN VOGUE

Varsity Team Shaping Up Well—Miss Cooper, a New-comer, Stars

In a game which was rather a rough and tumble affair, though interspersed with brilliant playing by both teams, the Women's Senior Basketball team defeated the Victoria Grads on Saturday, Dec. 1st, by a score of 12-7. This was the second game of a home-and-home practise series between the Victoria Grads and Varsity, the first encounter of which was staged at Victoria High last week, resulting in a 27-21 victory for the Green and Gold.

The spectators were delighted by the high brand of basketball put up by the co-eds. Playing under men's rules for the second time, the girls took advantage of the faster tempo of game to turn in an excellent performance. Despite close checking and rough play by both sides, the home team uncovered some speedy playing and excellent combinations. Both teams were somewhat off in their shooting at first, but improved as the game progressed. The Grads, although closely checked, played well and the issue was very doubtful until the last period, when Varsity increased their lead to five points. Both teams displayed a lack of familiarity with men's rules, showing a tendency to bunch round the ball, a defect which will be remedied by practice. The co-eds looked well in their new uniforms.

Francis Alexander, Helen Beny and Olive Caldwell played their usual stellar games in the forward positions, each contributing her quota of baskets. Miss Dobson, a newcomer, who filled the centre position, proved a real find, playing a fast, heady game and using her height to good advantage. Miss Smith, subbing at centre, was very effective. Miss Cooper and her partner at guard did the old stone-wall defence act. Miss Cooper, also a newcomer, was perhaps the best player on the floor, both her passing and her intercepting being of a very high order.

Miss Schepp, an erstwhile Varsity player, scintillated brightly for Victoria; her teammates though closely checked, turned in a good game.

After the game the visiting team repaired to Pembina where they were entertained by the co-eds.

Table 27, as a consequence of their remarkable victory over Len Wrinch's team, are finding it very hard to secure rugby games. The following are a few of the challenges hurled at the various tables:

- (1) Saucier's table was offered a spot of fifty. No reply to this.
- (2) McNeil offered to spot Saucier's table fifty and play with only six men. No reply to this.
- (3) Table 27 challenges any six tables.

LIVELY SESSIONS OF THE STUDENTS' PARLIAMENT

The second session was held on Monday night at 8 o'clock and was in every way just as successful as the previous session.

Mr. Ramsay, leader of the Opposition, moved the adjournment of the House for the purpose of discussing the recent action of the Vancouver Harbor Commissioners who have "boosted" the rates greatly. Mr. R. M. Boker seconded the motion, and pointed out how unjustifiable the Commissioners' actions are. Mr. MacKay, in defending the government's policy, spoke of the "tempest in a teapot" that the Opposition was trying to raise and that since the Government had given the matter due attention, no adjournment was necessary. Mr. Ramsay then withdrew the motion.

Miss Boyle spoke in favor of the bill for the redistribution of constituencies which would provide true representation for all the provinces. Mr. Oke seconded the bill. Miss McGoun contended that although numbers in constituencies may be made equal, geographic boundaries may be arranged so as to give one political party precedence. Mr. Laws, of the Independents, pointed out an inaccuracy in the bill and moved that it be tabled. Mr. Millard seconded the motion. Miss Boyle in reply, attributed the inaccuracy to the printer's neglect and carelessness. After further discussion by Mr. Lorie, Mr. M. Baker and Mr. Campbell, the bill was passed.

Mr. Turcotte then moved that the House go into Committee of Supply. Agreed. He then introduced the motion for the allotment of monies for immigration purposes.

Mr. McKenzie very ably seconded the motion, after which Mr. Jones,

GOOD SHOWING AT BOXING WORKOUTS

Hank Gale in Charge.—A Varsity Boxing Meet Proposed

The usual practises of the Boxing Club will take place on Monday and Wednesday. In the absence of Rex Simmons, Hank Gale will take charge until an instructor can be obtained.

Great interest is being taken in boxing this year. Many big men are turning out and rapidly rounding into shape. Some of the heavy-weights are scaling better than 180 lbs., while there is also no dearth of middle- and welter-weights. A larger turnout among the lighter men is wanted as there is a scarcity of material.

The practises so far have been chiefly of a conditioning character as boxing is a sport that requires the utmost in physical perfection. Skipping, bag-punching and shadow boxing are at present in vogue with a little road-work to follow later.

The members of the Boxing Club regret very much the departure of their president, Rex Simmons, who has forsaken his studies for a more lucrative position in Calgary.

Mr. Simmons founded the club a few years ago, and it is entirely due to his enthusiasm, energy and efficiency that the club has done so well.

The future policy of the Boxing Club will continue along the same general lines as heretofore. However, with regard to the Provincial Competitions a deviation from former years seems inevitable. The Provincial Competitions come at a bad time for the student (about the 1st of March). This fact, it is thought, prevents many prospective members from joining the club. Also it is a recognized fact that in the past many of the contestants at the competition have not been, strictly speaking, amateurs.

To overcome these difficulties and boost membership Mr. Simmons proposed to have a "Varsity Boxing Night" some time in February between none but members of the Club. It was also proposed that an inter-faculty meet be held, but this was found to be impracticable.

Classes will soon be under a competent instructor and the club desires that all intending to join do so as soon as possible.

The Meat Maulers, save for a few temporary absences of epidermis, came through the encounter unscathed, but the other team was severely used. Len Wrinch suffered a dislocated shoulder, Ross Henderson spent the next day in bed, while Nifty Addinell and Selnes are still limping.

Wrinch (on being interviewed before the game): "Never have I had such confidence, etc., etc."

Wrinch (on being interviewed after the game): "Aw, go to !?!"

As the final game in the mixed doubles had not been played at the time of going to press last week, the performance of the Alexander team could not be mentioned. Miss Alexander aided by her brother, defeated Miss Beny and Bures in a furiously contested match. The scores were 11-13, 6-4, 6-4.

Conservative, criticized the Government's policy regarding the Hebrideans. Mr. Saucier then supported the Government's policy regarding immigration in a French speech, to which Mr. Lessard replied in French. Mr. Sigler dealt with the social side of immigration and advocated many reforms in the present methods of inspecting immigrants for entry. Mr. O'Brien then expressed his lack of faith in the Government and stated that although he was the Liberal whip, he had now to differ from their views. Mr. Campbell replied to the various criticisms and moved that the House go out of Committee. Seconded by Miss Boyle.

Mr. Ramsay made a plea for an extension of time, which was agreed to.

Mr. Davies, Independent, criticized the government's attitude regarding immigration, especially the Oriental exclusive policy. Mr. Millard showed how the Australian immigration problem differed from Canada's and advocated a system which would prevent foreigners from becoming naturalized in Canada that they might readily emigrate to the United States.

Mr. Laws then proposed a vote of censure of the Government, but received absolutely no support, the Liberals thereby enjoying a signal triumph. The session next adjourned.

McNeil's Meat Maulers Defeat Wrinch's Table 32 - 0

Brains and Speed Conquer Brute Strength.—Table 27 Now Undisputed Champions

The game turned out to be a contest between brains and brawn—intelligence and dexterity versus brute strength. Needless to say, McNeil's team of geniuses ran away with the game 32-0.

The Meat Maulers completely outplayed their obese opponents. Perhaps it was over confidence, perhaps it was over training, but whatever it was, the horrible fact remains that Wrinch's leviathans failed to make yards a single time and were only superior in signal practise, resin and uniforms.

However, table 27 introduced a bit of strategy that would have made Hindenburg's brains work overtime (presuming, of course) that Hindenburg had brains. 'Convoco', a latin play, was the important factor in the victory. This play demoralized the opposition with its daring and speed.

For the Meat Maulers McNeil was the outstanding player, with four touchdowns to his credit. Jack McAllister was next with five points, and Savage third with four. Leppard failed to break into the scoring, though he carried the ball well. Macaulay played a nice game at end. The feature of the afternoon was the playing of the line, consisting of Dunfield, Wally, Leisner, Williams, McMillan, Waines.

The writer of this article also played. We would like to mention how we tore through the line time after time for big gains, how we tricked the entire team by our clever dodging and eluded tackle after tackle; we would like to tell how we singly and alone bore the brunt of the enemy attack and how we scored 6 touchdowns; we would like to tell all about this, but space does not permit it. We are a shy sort of a chap of a retiring and pious disposition; besides we have a sneaking supposition that our playmates wouldn't like it.

For the losers Nifty Addinell probably played the best. He had three less fumbles than Henderson, with Selnes and Agnew trailing along in close succession. In closing it is only fair to mention that Len Wrinch, the captain of the Has-Beens, had the misfortune to dislocate his shoulder. This materially weakened the team and, no doubt, greatly influenced the final result.

The Line-Up

McNeil's—Savage, Leppard, McNeil, Dunfield, Waines, Tuck, Williams, Wally, Leisner, Macaulay, McAllister, McMillan.

Wrinch's — Ferie, Whittaker, Wrinch, Necker, Agnew, Selnes, Addinell, McRae, Henderson, Lefsrud, Johnson, Terry.

COMMERCE

The second of the series of luncheons was enjoyed by the Club on Wednesday noon. The Club was addressed by Mayor Duggan on the subject of "Municipal Management," and the talk was one of practical value to the members, very interesting, and heartily received. The luncheon was a huge success, and the large turn-out of new members was an agreeable surprise. It is hoped that this keen enthusiasm will be sustained throughout the term.

Bob (excitedly): "Hey, Anton, get up quick! There are burglars in our room."
Anton (drowsily): "Well, what of it? Let them find out their mistake for themselves."

The hockey season will soon be at its height, and so will Commerce. All Commerce men who glide, and wield the stick, please see Ken Duggan, Commerce hockey representative. If you hockeyers turn out, we ought to be well away for a good team this winter.

The last meeting of the Club was held on Monday, Nov. 19, at which Miss Brumwell was elected as the representative of the first year Commerce students on the executive. The other sordid business of the meeting related to the rather touchy subject of fees. Will the members please respond and spare our diffident secretary any embarrassment in pressing the matter.

AGRICULTURE

The regular meeting of the Ag. Club was held on Thursday evening. The speaker of the occasion was Mr. H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, whose address was very much enjoyed. The Club welcomes to its membership the ladies of the B.H.E.C. course, as we know that their presence will ensure a good attendance of the Ag. at the Club meetings.

We are pleased to report that Joe Ficht who was reported out of order last week, has recovered satisfactorily.

Reception Notes

The sheik element from the 4th and 5th floors, led by Amir Hawrelak was one of the outstanding features of the evening.

Frenchy and Don are still thinking nasty things about the last car, which passed them about 30 blocks from home.

The dramatic department officially denies that following Doe's exhibition in the play, the fourth floor volunteered en masse to assist in dramatic work.

The choice bit of the evening was when the Doctor attempted to put out a member of the cast as being a suspicious-looking character. It speaks well for Royal's ability as an impersonator.

The initial steps towards the formation of a Glee Club were taken on Friday evening. Preliminary arrangements were made and we hope to see this become a real live student activity.

Extractions

Even though the ground is rather hard and snow is present in minor quantities, yet we take this opportunity to thank our Inter-faculty tennis representatives, Gerrie and Lloyd, for the honour they brought to our Faculty. Reaching the finals by calmly "whiffing" Science and Agriculture, the boys ran into the strong Commerce team, and due no doubt to the excessive dissipation in which they participated on the previous night, met defeat.

At the last meeting of the Pharmacy Club it was decided to hold a banquet in the Macdonald Hotel during the first week in December. This is a golden opportunity for the Pharmacy students not only to meet each other, but to get acquainted with the over-town druggists. Considerable work has been expended to make this a never-to-be-forgotten occasion, and an interesting and enjoyable time is assured all who partake of the opportunity. It is now up to the Pharmacy students to unite together in making this a success. Tickets can be procured from Frank Lee, Johnnie Claxton and J. MEDICINE

The prof who addressed Luoren as Mr. Moron is living behind barricaded doors and having his meals delivered through the back windows these days.

We must confess that we are not quite sure as to what type of flashlights the Science I-Beams are. They are probably very useful but so are candles.

We are being urged to make room in this column for the story which is circulating through the Med Building, of the young Parisian nurse who took it into her head to make a living. We must leave it to our readers to decide whether or not it would make interesting reading.

ARTS

The Arts students wish to offer their sincere and hearty congratulations to Johnnie Cassels on his recent election to the Rhodes' Scholarship. We feel that he is undoubtedly worthy of this honor, and that he will give his fellow-students every reason to be proud of him. Good luck, Johnnie!

The Arts' girls are lining up in great shape for hockey this year. For the past two weeks, they have practised at White Mud Creek. Moreover, the Arts faculty was well represented at the hockey training glass Monday evening.

We notice that the Arts girls are taking a genuine interest in the Debating Club this year.

The Pembina S. C. M. had the pleasure of listening to an interesting paper given by Miss Montgomery on "Some of the Latest Experiments in Rural Teaching in United States and Great Britain," last Monday evening.

The recent tests brought many strange things to light. Putting various bits of our newly acquired knowledge together, we have been able to see Francis Bacon, Lord Verulam, in his true nature, i.e., as a man who studied a few facts in order to arrive at unknown conclusions, and who wrote the "Ovum Organum," which we assume is a treatise on the art of incubation. Further information will be thankfully received.

SCIENCE

I-Beams

The meeting of the Society on Nov. 19, was the best we have attended in a long time. The papers were all interesting, and we have added much practical knowledge to our store as a result. If any of you guys ever want to give a paper at one of these meetings don't be afraid to say so, as most Science students need practice in public speaking.

Did you ever hear any of these sayings before?
"This, gentlemen, is an absolutely bread-and-butter doctrine."
"As you will remember from your Greek."
"Going back to first principles, we see..."
"As you will remember from your Freshman Physics..."

Laverty claims the only spare time he ever has is that time between the time when the alarm goes off and when he shuts it off. This is getting it down to about infinitesimals of the second order.

The fourth year seemed surprised at a certain test in Pol. Ec. Oh, well, life would be dull if it weren't for the odd unexpected happening now and again, and the surprise can't always be agreeable.

It is reported that the third year drawing lab. is being converted into a wrestling ring or a battlefield, we haven't been able to find out which yet.

Said a third year stew: "My favorite studies are Geology and Mechanics." Yes, we agree with you. He sure is a liar.

According to Physics 3, we must get into our heads the kinetic energy of a gas. If we had only a portion of this energy, we believe it would go a long way towards overcoming the somnolence that has a tendency to prevail in some lectures.

LAW

Ask McClung the translation of the Latin phrase left on the board in Arts 212, "Erat Athenis domus magna sed infamis."

We are wondering if Jack won the I.O.D.E. Scholarship on his knowledge of Latin. Congrats, anyway, Jack.

We have heard of good alibis and poor alibis, but we never heard one like this: "The best team lost." We have heard of injuries as being advanced as an alibi, but the simple laconic statement, "The best team lost," is beyond us. Where did you Meds get this?

11:30 Saturday morning Bobby Cameron enters the library with a vacant look.

Morrison: "Wrong room, Bobby, 311 next floor..." "Well, weren't you looking for Prof. Burt?" "Well, you'd better get to work."
Bobby: "Not hanged if I will! I get browbeaten enough without you."
We would like to know who by.

We take this opportunity of conveying the heartiest congratulations of the Law Club to Johnnie Cassels on his winning the Rhodes.

MEETING OF COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AFFAIRS

basca Hall came up for discussion. The Provost stated that a committee had been appointed under the chairmanship of the President of the Students' Union to consider this matter. They had agreed that in the future not more than $50 could be spent for decorations on any one occasion. They had also agreed to a very careful supervision of the particular form of decoration.

It was decided that, since the only distinctive features which could be given to various dances were in connection with decorations, it would perhaps not be well to lay down any specific regulations in regard to this matter; it might be left to the judgment of the committee to see that whatever type of decorations was adopted, it should be such as not to interfere with the natural beauty of the hall.

Status of Nurses

Status of nurses, with regard to social functions and other student activities was discussed.

The President agreed to take up with the Board of Governors the question of making the regular Students' Union fee compulsory for all nurses in training, which would enable them to participate in all the privileges of the students of the University. The committee agreed that this should be carried out. It was suggested that half the fee might be charged for the remainder of this session and that a corresponding arrangement should be made in the future for nurses entering the School of Nursing after Christmas.

NOTE.—The question of making the Students' Union fee compulsory on Nurses in Training has been since passed by the Board.
